(54) Title: METHOD OF INSTALLING A HEAT TUBE ON PRE-INSULATED PIPING

(72) Inventors: THOMAS, JOSEPH KEYES

(73) Applicant(s): THERMACOR PROCESS, INC 1670 HICKS FIELD ROAD EAST Fort Worth TEXAS 76179, U.S.A.

(74) Agent: JK MUCHAE & COMPANY ADVOCATES,

(57) A method is shown for installing a heat tube on a section of pre-insulated piping. A metal carrier pipe is covered with a first layer of foam insulation. Next, a routing device is used to cut a longitudinal slot along the length of the pipe so that the pipe exterior surface is exposed from the insulation. A heat tube is then installed within the longitudinal slot, whereby the heat tube contacts the exterior surface of the metal carrier pipe. A second layer of foam insulation is then sprayed onto the exterior of the metal carrier pipe, covering the previously formed longitudinal slot and installed heat tube. A polyolefin coating is then applied over the insulation to form a protective outer jacket for the insulated pipe. P.O. BOX 60664-00200 NAIROBI

(72) Inventors: LORENZETTI CLAUDIO LOURENCO

(73) Applicant(s): LORENZETTI S.A. INDUSTRIAS BRASILEIRAS ELECTROMETALURGICAS AVENIDA PRESIDENTE WILSON, 1230, CEP: 03107-901, Sao Paulo, CEP - 03107, Brazil

(74) Agent: J.K. MUCHAE & COMPANY ADVOCATES,

(57) The present invention relates to a contact plate for a connection assembly for an electric water heater, for use in showers, faucets or other use points where hot water is required, the plate being provided with a drive system and a bearing, the drive system comprising a plurality of electrical contacts which are provided from a first and a second stamped parts. The invention also comprises the manufacturing process of the contact plate. According to the invention, the contact plate comprises a reduced amount of associated components and is obtained by a process comprising a reduced amount of manufacturing and assembly operations, ensuring greater ease and agility in its production, with consequent decrease of the occurrence of failures and reduction of costs. (72) Inventors: BWONDERA MIKE

(73) Applicant(s): OCTAVIA CARBON CO GIRIRAJ BUSINESS PARK, UNIT 8, RUAI, NAIROBI, Kenya

(74) Agent: KIETI LAW LLP,

(57) The present invention discloses a direct air capture machine, comprising a damper plate assembly 1, top plate fastened onto the body frame, centrifugal fans 3, sorbent chambers 2, sorbent powders and heat exchanger/radiator 2c-2e, plenum airspace and O-rings for airtightness. The said components are designed to ensure the movement of the damper plates with the aid of an O-rings for airtightness and additionally ensure airtightness of the system. The direct air capture (DAC) machine employs temperature swing adsorption and desorption processes for capturing and releasing CO₂ to regenerate the sorbent. The machine uses a solid powder sorbent chemical filter that chemically combines and selectively capture CO₂ from atmospheric air in a reversible manner, thus removing CO₂ emissions. 3RD FLOOR, BLOCK D MERCHANT SQUARE RIVERSIDE, WESTLANDS, P.O. (57) Waste from herbivorous animals such as cows, buffalo, etc. produces waste from their dung. These wastes end piling up polluting the environment, consumes oxygen from the soil, produces heat that burns the roots and seedlings and also detracts human health. These issues are reduced by the production of cellulose from the cow dung so as it can be applied as raw materials in industries such as paint, paper and cosmetic industry. The production of cellulose is produced through mixing moist cow dung with water then the mixture is refined to form fine paste. The fine paste undergoes bleaching process whereby sodium hydroxide and hydrogen peroxide are added and heated and foam generated will be separated. The remaining mixture undergoes cooling and straining with micron mesh so as to collect the liquid which is the cellulose.

(57) The present invention is a Reverse Vending Machine which accepts non-metallic and metallic beverage containers for processing. The beverage containers are inserted by the user into an intake chute, where they are then compacted, sorted, and deposited in storage bins contained in the machine. A number of additional functions are provided by the reverse vending machine, including a self-cleaning system, a video screen for displaying information to users, a deposit mark scanner publication classification for scanning deposit marks, a user ID reader, and a coupon printer for issuing monetary rewards to users, by scanning the deposit mark deployed on the individual metallic and non-metallic containers. All transaction information is processed by a computer and stored electronically. The invention automatically returns non-empty containers and containers with unacceptable or unreadable deposit mark to the user. The user is also provided warning messages when the storage bins are nearly full, or when a container is jammed in the machine.

(57): The purpose of the present invention is to provide a movement management device which, even when ISR is active, is capable of properly notifying a UE of an incoming voice call generated while a mobile communication device is moving from a position registration area controlled by an MME to a position registration area controlled by an SGSN. A movement management device (10) according to the present invention implements an ISR function in cooperation with an SGSN (20). Let it be assumed that a position registration area (60) managed by the movement management device (10) is located within a position registration area (50) managed by the SGSN (20), and that an incoming voice call has been sent to a mobile communication device(30) when the mobile communication device (30) is moving from the second position registration area (60). In this case, an incoming voice call control unit (110 provided in the movement management device (10) transmits, to a switch (40), a response message indicating that the mobile communication device (30) is moving, and if the switch (40) re-transmits an incoming voice call message after the elapse of a predetermined time, then the incoming voice call control unit (11) performs call processing for the mobile communication device (30).

 (57) Abstract: A device to extract elements contained in a cavity, additional to patent of invention P060105329, and of preferable application to assistance at childbirth and/or extraction of elements seated in cavities of the human body, facilitating the task of medical professionals. Said device is comprised of a bag having one of its ends open, through which it is possible to introduce the element to be extracted, in which, in a first embodiment and on the outer surface of the bag and along all its circumference line, there is at least one air chamber being able to get in contact with the element to be extracted when receiving inner pressure, being said chamber connected to a pressure generating means; and in a second embodiment, an outward fold is defined on said bag, forming an annular cavity at the time it gets in contact with the cavity containing the element to be extracted.

(51) Int.Cl.: G 01N 33/483, G 01N 33/569, C 12Q 1/04, C 12Q 1/68

(57) Abstract: Use: medicine and biotechnology. Aim: to increase the reliability of determining infection by viruses with lymphotropism, to eliminate false negative reactions in testing blood for the presence of lymphotropic viruses during EIA and PCR testing, and to detect viruses with lymphotropism in biological material having a concentration of virus particles lower than the sensitivity threshold of EIA or PCR methods. Essence of the invention: the method for assessing the viability of viruses with lymphotropism comprises collecting biological material and determining whether said material contains virus RNA or DNA by means of conducting a polymerase chain reaction (PCR reaction). In addition, a lymphocyte suspension is taken from the blood of healthy people, to which lymphocytes an equal volume of biological material is added. This combination is then mixed, incubated at a temperature of 37°C for a period of 6-8 hours, and the lymphocytes are washed of plasma and broken down. The lymphocyte cytoplasm is then subjected to PCR testing. The detection of virus RNA or DNA in the lymphocyte cytoplasm indicates that the viruses have retained their viability. The absence of virus RNA or DNA in the lymphocyte cytoplasm indicates the inactivation of the viruses.

(54) A DEVICE USED FOR SQUEEZING WATER FROM A MOP

(51) A 47L 13/58(2006.01)

(57) The technical field for this item is a metal stand for squeezing and drying a round cloth mop. This device used for squeezing water from a mop is made from metal. Different sizes of round metal rods are welded together to make a complete stand and then different sizes of flat metal of the same width is welded together to make a basket that is used for squeezing water from the cloth mop. The flat metal making the basket is properly spaced for the water to drain through and also the spacing is well measured to prevent the cloth from the mop head from passing through to touch the water from the bucket/basin. This device is an independent item that will be used as an independent unit that is not restricted to any bucket or basin. Any person with a bucket or basin can use this device by pouring water in the bucket/basin and dipping this device to use it to drain the water from the mop head. The material and design make it long lasting and cannot give in to breakage when human pressure is put when squeezing the mop head. This device will help in reduction of germs coming into contact with the hands during cleaning.

(51) A 01K 59/00(2006.01)

(57) The present invention discloses a device that facilitates the collection of venom from bees without harming the bee or the bee causing harm to the collector to minimize contamination and maintain the potency and purity of the venom. The device comprises a lighting in the screen; an adjustable frequency; an expandable panel system, and an extended battery life. The collector is typically placed at the entrance or exit of a beehive, where the bees come and go. As a bee lands on the collector, it receives a harmless electrical stimulus, triggering it to sting the collector. The venom is released into a glass or plastic plate, which can be easily removed and processed to extract the venom.

The present invention a development of livestock feed formulations and methods utilizing an aquatic plant of Azolla genus as a nutritious and sustainable feed source for various livestock species, and to boast high protein content, essential amino acids, vitamins (including vitamin B 12), and essential minerals (such as iron, calcium, and phosphorus). In the first embodiment, Azolla is cultivated using a series of steps, comprising making floor pit and covering it with iron sheets, spreading soft soil over the sheet, filling the pit with water, dissolving fermented cattle feces, dissolving superphosphate in water before incubating Azolla in the pit for 15 days, sun-drying it and packaging it for use as feeds. In the subsequent embodiments, Azolla is formulated with other ingredients and packaged as livestock, comprising Azolla feeds for chicken, rabbit, pig and fish.

(54) A method and process of extracting fuel from waste plastic materials.

Most of the unrecycled plastics end up in rivers, oceans and landfills posing disruption in marine ecosystems, agriculture and human health. Therefore, this problem of increased plastic disposal to the environment is solved through thermochemical process of pyrolysis so as to extract low sulphur polyfuels from the synthetic polymers. The process extracts crude oil, petrol and diesel which can be used in automotive and industry to run machines. The process comprises of the waste plastics being collected, sorted, loaded to reactor, heated, vaporised, condensed, the gas being collected and collection of the condensed vapor. The whole process of collecting different products is based with different temperature set conditions.

(57) The Invention is accessible online for the initiated interaction browsing phase where the system is designed to capture all data fed into it by an authorized administrator, which is stored in the interlinked secure server for generation upon request or command from one end. Upon a login by an end user, the system will analyze and process the requested information, and generate a specific code on command to transmit data newly acquired or previously compartmentally stored in the secure server. The exclusive vehicle report related to a particular vehicle registration number or chassis number with predetermined stored relationships is generated upon request. The build-up of data in the secure server from input by the authorized administrator, to provide predetermined relationships is obtained from various stake holders and is not limited to insurance companies; it includes relevant regulatory authorities in Kenya. Generated reports and or data related to a specific vehicle registration number/s or chassis number upon a log in request cannot be fed back into the secure server by the beneficiary. The embodiments are provided for recording, storing, calculating, and communicating to the requestor/s.

(51) E 04D 3/00(2006.01)

(57) Roofing materials such as tiles, GI, waste products such as bamboo, coconut etc., coated iron, and fiberglass are basically major components that are used. However, they have challenges in allowing sufficient sunlight since they are either opaque or translucent in nature. While on the other hand PET plastics have become increasingly available within our environment as landfills and this pose threat to life and environment. Therefore, this is curbed through converting the PET plastic bottle to roofing sheets through, the processes such as feeding, filtering unwanted materials, forming into flat sheet, heating and forming into roofing sheet and cooling to ambient temperature and cutting into desired dimensions. These sheets can be applied to rooftops to allow adequate sunlight though in either condition of the day. This will allow plenty of light inside the warehouse and different forms of house structure.

The present invention relates to a computing network, and more particularly, to a computer system designed to provide online service distribution to clients such as those seeking legal services. The invention is to provide an online service distribution system suitable for use by different clients in accessing online services. In particular, it is an online service distribution system for legal professionals to provide various categories of legal services to their clients. The system consists of a consultation Module, a processing Module, a pairing Module, a response Module, an evaluation Module, a background management Module, and a downloading Module.

(54) Title: METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR FUNERAL SERVICES MANAGEMENT

(57) The present invention provides a death care management system designed to facilitate funeral arrangements. The proposed system encompasses various components, including Death Notices, Memorials, and a platform known as The Redbook. The system focuses on leveraging technology to introduce advancements to the traditional death care industry through building a scalable and sustainable ecosystem for death care information that responds to evolving content consumption patterns. The death care management system serves as a one stop online portal that enables users to promptly announce and share information pertaining to a death. Furthermore, it that enables users to announce/share timely information about a death, create, share, and preserve personalized online memorials, and connect users and providers of end-of-life services and products .

(54) Title: Integrated system for booking, allocation of People and Resources and Payment Process.

(57) The invention relates to the technical field of resource sharing based on internet. In particular to a method and system for booking laundry cleaning lady, express cleaning, baby sitter, online school and assignment, home and office maintenance, deep cleaning and decluttering, office cleaning, carpet and duvet cleaning, special needs resources, therapy and counselling, custom cleaning, fumigation, gardening maintenance, fumigation, short stay home, caregivers, moving services, event organizing, post construction, event cleaning, security systems installation, painters and car mechanics. The system provides a user with an ability to manage an on-demand laundry and scheduled service, the system comprising: a smart device, a mobile communicator configured to receive instructions from the user and to send user data; and a facilitator configured to receive the user data and to retrieve options data based on the user data.

(54) Title: BEE VENOM COLLECTING DEVICE

(57) The present invention discloses a device that facilitates the collection of venom from bees without harming the bee or the bee causing harm to the collector to minimize contamination and maintain the potency and purity of the venom. The device comprises a lighting in the screen; an adjustable frequency; an expandable panel system, and an extended battery life. The collector is typically placed at the entrance or exit of a beehive, where the bees come and go. As a bee lands on the collector, it receives a harmless electrical stimulus, triggering it to sting the collector. The venom is released into a glass or plastic plate, which can be easily removed and processed to extract the venom.

 (54) Title: ROYAL BEESWAX EXTRACTION PROCESS
 (57) The present invention discloses to a process for extracting royal beeswax from beehives. The process comprises steps of hive inspection and identification of combs, segregation and protection of the combs, low-temperature extraction, filtration, purification, quality testing and certification of premium grade. Advanced imaging technology, such as infrared scanning, aids in accurate identification. The identified Royal Beeswax combs are then segregated and protected to prevent contamination, preserving their unique properties. The wax is subsequently subjected to multi-stage filtration and purification, ensuring the removal of impurities and unwanted residues. The extracted premium-grade beeswax has an enhanced aroma, color, and therapeutic properties, suitable for high-end applications in cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, candle fuel and food products.

8.0 Industrial Design Applications Published Under Section 87 and Regulation 48

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the Registration of any of the Industrial designs published herein may within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal, lodge a notice of opposition on form IP 36 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh.5,000/= (local opponent) or US$ 250 (foreign opponent).

The period of lodging the notice of opposition may be extended by the Managing Director as he deems fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Managing Director to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given in writing to the applicant to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant. Representations and samples of the designs advertised herein can be seen at the Patent Registry, Kenya Industrial Property Institute, KIPi Centre, 17 Kabarsiran Avenue, Off Waiyaki Way, Lavington, Nairobi.

11.4 Removal

Section 23 of the Trade Marks Act provides that registration of a trade mark in Kenya shall expire after a period of ten (10) years. The Act also provides that the proprietor of a registered trade mark may make an application for renewal of the trade mark upon completion of the prescribed Form TM 10 and payment of the prescribed renewal fee.

Rule 65 of the Trade Mark Rules provides that where no application for renewal of a registered trade mark is received upon expiry of the ten year period, the Registrar of Trade Marks shall notify the proprietor of this fact. Where no application for renewal of the registered trade mark is received within a period of sixty (60) days from the date of the notice for renewal by the Registrar, rule 67 of the Trade Mark Rules requires the Registrar of Trade Marks to publish this fact.

In accordance with the above provisions, the Registrar of Trade Marks hereby notifies the public that the proprietors of the trade marks indicated below were duly notified and that they did not file applications for renewal of their respective trade marks.

In accordance with the provisions of rules 67 and 68 of the Trade Mark Rules, the public is hereby notified as follows:

- (a) Where the proprietor of a registered trade mark makes an application for renewal of a mark that has been published herein and pays the renewal fee together with the additional prescribed late renewal fee within thirty (30) days from the date of this publication, the trade mark shall be renewed and shall not be removed from the Register of Trade Marks;
- (b) Where no application for renewal of a trade mark published herein is received within thirty (30) days from the date of this publication, the trade mark shall be forthwith removed from the Register of Trade Marks; and

Once the trade mark is removed from the Register of Trade Marks, the proprietor may thereafter make an application for renewal of the mark upon payment of the prescribed renewal fee together with the additional prescribed restoration fee. The trade mark shall then be restored to the Register of Trade Marks upon the Registrar of Trade Marks being satisfied that it is just to do so and upon imposing such conditions as the Registrar may deem fit.

11.10 Madrid Applications accepted for registration

The following are the marks whose international registration has been notified to Kenya as a designated contracting Party by the International Bureau, World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) and which are governed by the Madrid Agreement and the Madrid Protocol. The prescribed period of twelve (12) months and eighteen months (18) respectively for refusal of the marks commences from the notification date indicated herein for each mark.

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the marks may, in accordance with the provisions of rule 11(1) of the Trade Marks (International Registration) Rules 2003, file a notice of opposition within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh 5,000/= (Kenyan residents) or US$ 250 (non residents).

The period of filing the notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar of Trade Marks as prescribed in the Trade Mark Rules. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar before the expiry of the sixty (60) day statutory period.

All the details of the marks advertised herein are available on WIPO's website www.wipo.int/romarin

3. Patent Cooperation Treaty

The Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is an international patent protection treaty consisting of over 140 member states. PCT is administered by the World Intellectual Property Organization in Geneva Switzerland. PCT makes it possible for an applicant to seek patent protection for an invention simultaneously in any of the selected member states by filing one application. PCT is a filing system and does not grant patents on behalf of the member states. Applications must enter national phase in the selected member states. In the national phase, the applicant is required to pay the prescribed national fees in the said member states. Further, in some member states, a foreign applicant is required to have a resident agent. The PCT fees as of 1st May 2011 are as follows:

Type of fee	Fee		Fee waivers
International filing fee	USD 1, 367 or CHF 1330		90% waiver for a natural person from Kenya
Search fees (only one search authority needs to be selected by applicant)	Austria	USD 2, 443	75% waiver for natural a person from Kenya
