(57): Resources are allocated on a shared downlink control channel by an allocation table that is partitioned into a first, fixed length partition and into at least one second, variable length partition. The fixed length and the modulation and coding scheme MCS of the first partition is known a priori. The second variable length and the MCS of the second partition may be given in the first partition. Robustness may be varied between different second partitions of the same allocation table, or even within a single second partition to account for users at different proximity to the network node giving the allocations. Users may be identified in the first partition (e.g., a fixed number of users), and/or in the second partition (either additional allocated users or all users being allocated if the first partition does not identify users). Method, apparatus, computer program, integrated circuit and systems are detailed.

(54) Title: Self-powered pump for heated liquid, fluid heating and storage tank and fluid heating system employing same

(51) Int.Cl.:

(57) Abstract: In one aspect, a self-powered pump for heated liquid is provided. The pump includes an airtight container for containing the heated liquid. A heated liquid inlet pipe extends upwardly into the container such that its end is within the container. A heated liquid outlet is lower than the end of the inlet pipe. A breathing pipe extends upwardly into the container such that its end is within the container and is higher than both of the outlet and the end of the inlet pipe but lower than an interior side of the container top. An opposite end of the breathing pipe is outside the container, lower than the container base, and is received by an open container such that the opposite end can become submerged in heated liquid accumulated within the open container during pump operation.; A fluid or liquid heating system incorporating the self-powered pump may operate without external power for the pump. In another aspect, a fluid heating and storage tank is provided. The tank includes a storage tank for a primary fluid having a primary fluid inlet and a primary fluid outlet and an apparatus for flowing a secondary fluid through the storage tank in isolation from the primary fluid. The apparatus includes first and second pipes and a heat exchanger. The first pipe extends through the storage tank and is mounted at its ends to first and second fittings in the wall of the storage tank. The second pipe also extends through the storage tank and is mounted at its ends to third and fourth fittings in the wall of the storage tank. The heat exchanger is disposed within the storage tank and fluidly interconnects the first and second pipes.; The tank may be capable of standing in more than one orientation. A fluid heating system including the fluid heating and storage tank and a heater may or may not, in different embodiments, use a pump to circulate secondary fluid through the heater, which may be a solar heater.

(54) Title: DRY-BREAK FUEL RECEIVER WITH INTEGRAL BACK-FLOW PREVENTION

(51) Int.Cl.:

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates broadly to a valve assembly (10) being adapted to detachably receive a dry-break refuelling nozzle (12). The valve assembly comprises a receiver body (14) which defines a forward fuel passageway (16) in which a poppet valve member (18) is slidably mounted. The valve assembly (10) also comprises a tail body (22) secured coaxial with the receiver body (14) and defining a rearward fuel passageway (26). the tail body (22) slidably houses a check valve member or diffuser (28) which is driven by a hydraulic actuator or piston assembly (30).

(51) Int.Cl.:

(57) Abstract: The invention relates to a method for bonding, onto a carrier (2), active molecules (30) having an activity either against undesirable organisms or phenomena, or promoting a desired phenomenon. The method comprises: preparing a chemical composition containing at least cationic micelles (3) each including at least one active molecule (30); impregnating the carrier (2) with the cationic micelle (3) chemical composition; bonding the active molecules (30) onto the carrier (2) by creating at least one electrostatic bond between the cationic micelles (3) and the carrier (2). The invention also relates to an active element (1) including a carrier (2) and active molecules (30) bonded onto said carrier (2) and having an activity either against undesired organisms or phenomena, or promoting a desired phenomenon. The active element (1) includes cationic micelles (3) bonded onto said carrier (2) by at least one electrostatic bond and each including at least one active molecule (30)

(54) Title: SECURED FUSIBLE

(51) Int.Cl.:

(57) Abstract: The disclosure concerns a fusible shutter for a water structure such as a river sill, or a spillway on a dam or on a protective dyke, including a solid element disposed on the top of the structure and held on top by gravity, forming a watertight or substantially watertight wall, installed on the water structure and being able to retract so as to allow water to pass without obstruction when the level of the reservoir or watercourse reaches a predefined level, a chamber being formed at the base of the solid element between the latter and the surface that supports it, pressurisation means enabling the chamber to be filled with water in order to create under the solid element a thrust directed upwards when the water in the reservoir or watercourse reaches the predefined level.; The disclosure consists in these pressurisation means including a water inlet at a feed structure provided with two compartments delimited by an internal vertical wall, the two compartments being in communication with each other through at least one passage provided at the top part of the feed structure, one of the compartments having one or more openings in its bottom part allowing entry of water from the reservoir or watercourse into the feed structure while the other compartment is in communication with the chamber under the solid element. Applications to water structures such as a river sill, or a spillway on a dam or on a protective dyke.

(51) Int.Cl.:

(57) Abstract: A pump casing for a centrifugal pump, which comprises an inlet opening, a discharge outlet, and a transition surface extending between an inner peripheral surface of the main pumping chamber and an inner peripheral surface of the discharge outlet, the transition surface arranged for separating an in use exit flow of material in the discharge outlet from an in use recirculation flow of material in the main pumping chamber. The transition surface has a cutwater having a profiled section which comprises a protrusion which extends irregularly from an otherwise generally rounded arched or U-shaped transition surface and is configured such that, in use, the velocity and/or turbulence resulting from the in use flow of the material being pumped in the main pumping chamber is reduced.

(54) Title: Method for the reactive grinding of castor seeds

(51) Int.Cl.:

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to a method for the reactive grinding of castor seeds which, using specially processed castor seeds in the presence of a light alcohol and a basic catalyst, enables a grinding and a transesterification reaction of the triglycerides present in the castor oil to be performed in a single step, simultaneously producing an oil cake, glycerol and fatty acid esters, in particular ricinoleic acid. In a straightforward, inexpensive manner, the method for treating castor seeds according to the invention inactivates, in addition to the castor oil, the powerful allergen CB-IA, thus enabling risk-free handling by humans as well as the use of castor oil cakes as animal feed. Characteristically, the grains are processed by a series of operations including a step of flattening and a step of drying said grains.

(54) Title: Identification and authentication using polymeric liquid crystal material markings

(51) Int.Cl.:

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to a marking of polymeric liquid crystal material having determined optical characteristics allowing its authentication and reading by a machine and its authentication by the human eye. The marking is applied onto an item, good or article by a variable information printing process. The marking is in the form of indicia representing a unique code which allows for an easy authentication by the human eye and a secure tracking and tracing of the marked item, good or article throughout its life cycle.

(57) A smokeless biomass pyrolysis stove of low biomass fuel consumption and low emissions has been developed from stainless steel, aluminum and mild steel materials, sourced locally and operates purely on natural air draught and not forced air draught mechanism that normally requires use of a fan. The stainless steel is used in the inner cylinder (pyrolytic chamber) because of its ability to withstand high temperatures. The aluminium used in the outer cylinder is for ease of pre-heating the secondary air. The main objective of this innovation is to provide a cooking stove which uses biomass wastes to produce cleaner energy and carbon like material (bio char) as one of the products of pyrolytic reaction. The bio char is of great importance in Agriculture and water purification applications. The kind of biomass fuel that the Stove can use include but not limited to the following; wood chippings, twigs, sugarcane baggasse, maize cobs; stalks etc. The new design of the stove has an insulated outer cylinder that prevents loss of heat from the preheated secondary air, which originates from a natural convection that comes from the inner cylinder (pyrolytic chamber). The new stove also has a provision for ease of reloading the biomass fuel, removal of the bio char and a regulator for secondary air intake that can accommodate utilization of different biomass fuels. Moreover, the stove can be easily assembled and disassembled using unskilled persons, which makes it easily adaptable for use and consequently, a better stove of choice for sustainable cleaner energy use by the rural population.

(57) Method and system for receipting mobile money transactions from a client mobile device through physical receipt printing, emailing receipts and subsequently storing of receipts in a server/internet/cloud system that can be accessed as Open XML documents by a client system. A mobile money transaction once initiated, a notification with the mobile money transactional details is received on the mobile communication device. A client mobile system is initiated, accesses the respective mobile money transactional notification and breaks down the mobile financial transactional notification to respective mobile money financial transaction details. A client mobile system initiates a communication channel to the mobile or physical printer via a security token using a communications link e.g. an infrared communications link, short range radio frequency link such as Bluetooth or a wireless network communications link such as any of the 802.11x variants. Alternatively, can be implemented through a wire bound link such as USB implementation.

(57) This is an engine that can drive vehicles, water pumps etc. This engine does like all other Engine which are combustible. This engine uses air, which it converts to pressure to generate energy. The energy used by this engine is generated inside the piston, as air enters and comes out as energy. This engine can run the longest time as it control its energy in valve V2 as shown in figure 5. AS air does not cost engine to run, the cost of living will be minimized, and carbon emission within our environment will be minimized as well as diseases caused after combustion fuels

2.0 Industrial Designs

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the Registration of any of the Industrial designs advertised herein may within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal, lodge a notice of opposition on form IP 36 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh.5, 000/= (local opponent) or US$ 250 (foreign opponent).

The period of lodging the notice of opposition may be extended by the Managing Director as he deems fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Managing Director to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after a reasonable notice has been given in writing to the applicant to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

 (54) Title: SEALING RINGS

The design is for a sealing ring. The ring is circular in shape and has an inner part which is cylindrical in shape with an upper ring portion and a lower ring portion surrounding the cylindrical part and separated from one another. The ring portions extend beyond the ends of the cylindrical portion so that the cross-section of the sealing ring is broadly U-shaped. The upper and lower rings are wider than the portion of the inner part which separates them and the surface of the inner side of the sealing ring is smooth.

4.9 Madrid Applications accepted for registration

The following are the marks whose international registration has been notified to Kenya as a designated contracting Party by the International Bureau, World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) and which are governed by the Madrid Agreement and the Madrid Protocol. The prescribed period of twelve (12) months and eighteen months (18) respectively for refusal of the marks commences from the notification date indicated herein for each mark.

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the marks may, in accordance with the provisions of rule 11(1) of the Trade Marks (International Registration) Rules 2003, file a notice of opposition within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh 5, 000/= (Kenyan residents) or US$ 250 (non residents).

The period of filing the notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar of Trade Marks as prescribed in the Trade Mark Rules. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar before the expiry of the sixty (60) day statutory period.

All the details of the marks advertised herein are available on WIPO's website www.wipo.int/romarin

2. African Regional Intellectual Property Organization (ARIPO)

ARIPO is a regional body established by African governments to have a central office to among other things, process and grant industrial property rights on behalf of member states. ARIPO grants patents, utility models and industrial designs on behalf of Kenya. Currently, ARIPO consists of the following 16 member states; Botswana, Gambia, Ghana, Kenya, Lesotho, Liberia, Malawi, Mozambique, Namibia Sierra Leone, Sudan, Swaziland, Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia and Zimbabwe. Kenyan applicants are required by law to first file with the Institute before filing with ARIPO. ARIPO secretariat is located in Harare Zimbabwe.

The complete fee schedule for ARIPO is available on their website <http://www.aripo.org>. The following are the fees an applicant is required to pay immediately on application.

3. Patent Cooperation Treaty

The Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is an international patent protection treaty consisting of over 140 member states. PCT is administered by the World Intellectual Property Organization in Geneva Switzerland. PCT makes it possible for an applicant to seek patent protection for an invention simultaneously in any of the selected member states by filing one application. PCT is a filing system and does not grant patents on behalf of the member states. Applications must enter national phase in the selected member states. In the national phase, the applicant is required to pay the prescribed national fees in the said member states.

Further, in some member states, a foreign applicant is required to have a resident agent. The PCT fees as of 1st May 2011 are as follows:

Type of fee	Fee		Fee waivers
International filing fee	USD 1, 367 or CHF 1330		90% waiver for a natural person from Kenya
Search fees (only one search authority needs to be selected by applicant)	Austria	USD 2, 443	75% waiver for natural a person from Kenya
