Public Notice

Launch of the Patent Online Filing System

The Institute is pleased to announce a significant milestone in our commitment to enhancing service delivery and embracing digital transformation. This is in line with the Government's digitalization of public services aimed at improving efficiency, accessibility and inclusivity as spelt out under the Bottom-Up Economic Transformation Agenda (BETA)'s 5th core pillar, the Digital Superhighway and Creative Economy.

We have officially launched our new Online Filing System, a secure and user-friendly platform designed to streamline the application process for industrial property (IP) rights.

With this new system, clients can now file and make payments for the following National Applications entirely online, from anywhere and at any time: -

i. Patents
ii. Industrial Designs; and
iii. Utility Models

The e-Filing System is expected to bring benefits including 24/7 convenience whereby clients can file their applications outside of the traditional office working hours, ensure faster processing and enhance cost-effectiveness thereby saving on traveling, printing, and physical document handling costs.

The e-filing portal is live and accessible via the KIPI website under e-services menu at (https://patentonline.kipi.go.ke/efiling/). Additional information on how to use the e-filing system is available on the Institute's website www.kipi.go.ke.

All clients are encouraged to use this platform. For any assistance, contact us on Tel: 0702002020 and 0736002020 or email ict@kipi.go.ke.

The Institute remains dedicated to fostering innovation and protection of IP in Kenya. The launch of this e-filing system is a testament to our ongoing efforts to modernize our services and better serve you.

We look forward to providing you with a more efficient and modern filing experience.

1.0 PATENT APPLICATIONS PUBLISHED UNDER SECTION 42 AND REGULATION 35.

1.1 NATIONAL APPLICATION

(21) Application no.: KE/P/2024/5120 (22) Filing Date: 03/10/2024(30) Priority: (51) Int.Cl. (54) Title: A FORMULATION FOR MANAGEMENT OF PREMATURE EJACULATION AND PREVENTION OF HIV TRANSMISSION ,PREGNANCY AND LUBRICATION(72) Inventors: PETER GICHUCHI MWETHERA(73) Applicant(s): PETER GICHUHI MWETHERA P.O BOX 761-00502NAIROBI, Kenya (74) Agent: , (57) The invention presents a compound gel for treatment of premature ejaculation, the gel is formulated by Carbomer (59.8% Carboxylic acid), Propylene Glycol, Di- ethylamine, Lidocaine and water. Propylene glycol is boiled to 800 C and carbomer added while continually stirring to mix effectively. Deionized water also boiled to the same temperature is added to the mix while stirring then the solution is sie ed with a sterile wire mesh to obtain a clear gel solution. Propylene glycol is mixed with di-ethylamine separately and stirred continuous to a uniform solution then added to the first mix and after Lidocaine is lastly added to the mix. The invention relates to the field of reproductive health and is a lubricating gel as well as an antimicrobial gel preventing HIV infection.

BOX 46568-00100, Kenya (74) Agent: (57) A geospatial platform for Kenya's administrative zones visualizes boundaries and public projects with interactive overlays, status indicators, and user verification. It includes modules for surveys, performance comparisons across units and periods, corruption tracking, and business tools like lead generation and hiring. The backend automates data collection from public sources, while the frontend offers an intuitive UI with real-time updates and monetization features. Benefits enhance transparency for citizens, businesses, researchers, and officials. Built with web standards, it supports mobile access and high scalability

O. BOX 408-40200 KISII, Kenya; P.O BOX 1200520 RUAI, Kenya and P.O BOX 408-40200, Kenya (74) Agent: KISII UNIVERSITY, (57) This invention relates to an integrated modular system and method for the sustainable production of hydrogen from organic biomass through a two-stage process involving bioethanol fermentation and catalytic reforming. Organic feedstock, including agricultural residues, sugarcane bagasse, and food waste, undergoes controlled anaerobic fermentation using yeast to produce ethanol. The ethanol is subsequently introduced into a catalytic reforming reactor where, in the presence of a catalyst at approximately 300°C, it is converted into a hydrogen-rich gas. Carbon dioxide generated during the reforming process is chemically captured using calcium hydroxide. The system comprises a fermentation unit, an ethanol separation unit (distiller), a catalytic reformer, a hydrogen purification module, and a hydrogen storage unit. By integrating biological conversion, catalytic hydrogen production, carbon dioxide capture, and modular scalability into a continuous process, the invention provides an environmentally sustainable, energy-efficient, and scalable solution for decentralized hydrogen generation across industrial, agricultural, and community-scale applications with resource utilization.P. (21) Application no.: KE/P/2026/6354 (22) Filing Date: 15/09/2026(30) Priority: (51) Int.Cl. (54) Title: Computer Implemented Agricultural Inteligence platform with server side tier scoped data delivery , cryptographic APi authentication and secure event distribution(72) Inventors: JONAH WAWERU KAMAU(73) Applicant(s): VUNO METRICS LIMITED P.O.BOX 996-10100, NYERI, Kenya (74) Agent: , (57) A computer implemented agricultural intelligence platform consolidates, for a plurality of geographic markets, satellite-derived crop health data (NDVI), soil moisture, rainfall forecast, and drought indicators with current and prior commodity prices for a plurality of crops. A server-side tier-scoping module restricts the price data returned to a subscriber to the crops of their subscription tier by stripping out-of-tier fields after retrieval under an elevated service role that bypasses row-level security applied to end users. The same tier-scoping is applied to both interactive and API access paths. An enterprise API authenticates requests by a SHA-256 hash of presented bearer token, enforces per-token expiry and a rolling-window rate limit keyed by the token hash, and returns tier-scoped market price data. A row-level security layer confines all data operations to ownership-or-administrator scope. An audit and change log records every privileged action concurrently in two stores. An outbound web hook dispatcher signs deliveries with HMAC-SHA256 and validates targets against SSRF. The invention enables verifiable, tier-restricted, credentialed. agricultural market intelligence.

The pawls (6) are fixed to a spindle (5) retractable by a translation arrangement so as to pull the second pipe flange (2a) against the first pipe flange (1a). More particularly, the translation arrangement is configured such that, when the flanged pipes (1, 2) are coupled and the pawls (6) are retracted, a force exerted on the pawls (6) towards the extended position is transmitted via the translation arrangement against a mechanical stopper. Moreover, the translation arrangement is biased such that the translation arrangement must work against this bias in order to extend the pawls and release the flanged pipes (1, 2) coupled to each other.

The token includes a biometric sensor, one-time passcode (OTP) generator, a clock module, and a token interface, and is configured to obtain a biometric reading from an individual, compare it with enrollment biometric readings to verify identity, determine if the individual was alive at the time of the reading, and generate an OTP based, in part, on the biometric reading and a cryptographic key. The server includes an OTP generator, a clock module, and an interface through which it receives an OTP generated by the token. The server is configured to generate an OTP using information stored in a user file associated with the individual and identified with a unique identifier included with the token OTP. The server verifies the vitality of the individual by comparing the OTPs.

Agent/Address for service: SPOOR.FISHER, Total House (2nd Floor), 25 Liberia Road, P.O. Box GP 2319, Accra, Ghana(54) Title: ENTROPY CODING OF MOTION VECTOR DIFFERENCES(51) Int.Cl.: (57) Abstract: A decoder for decoding a video from a data stream into which horizontal and vertical components of motion vector differences are coded using binarizations of the horizontal and vertical components is described, the binarizations equaling a truncated unary code of the horizontal and vertical components, respectively, within a first interval of the domain of the horizontal and vertical components below a cutoff value, and a combination of a prefix in form of the truncated unary code for the cutoff value and a suffix in form of a Exp-Golomb code of the horizontal and vertical components, respectively, within a second interval of the domain of the horizontal and vertical components inclusive and above the cutoff value, wherein the cutoff value is two and the Exp-Golomb code has order one. An entropy decoder is configured to, for the horizontal and vertical components of the motion vector differences, derive the truncated unary code from the data stream using context-adaptive binary entropy decoding with exactly one context per bin position of the truncated unary code, which is common for the horizontal and vertical components of the motion vector differences, and the Exp-Golomb code using a constant equi-probability bypass mode to obtain the binarizations of the motion vector differences. A desymbolizer is configured to debinarize the binarizations of the motion vector 20 difference syntax elements to obtain integer values of the horizontal and vertical components of the motion vector differences; A reconstructor is configured to reconstruct the video based on the integer values of the horizontal and vertical components of the motion vector differences.

(72) VICTOR KYEVA(74) (4) A UNIFIED AI-ASSISTED ACADEMIC AND ADMINISTRATIVE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM(ELIMULINK)(51) G 06Q 10/00(2012.01) (57) The present invention relates to an academic and administrative management system (100) for higher education institutions. The system integrates academic records management, administrative workflow automation, role-based access control, analytics, and an artificial intelligence based assistance engine (130) within single digital platform. The system comprises a centralized institutional data repository (150) and role-specific user interfaces (120) for students, lecturers, administrators, and executives. The artificial intelligence engine (130) processes user input and institutional data to generate contextual responses and decision-support outputs. ,The system further incorporates an access control and encryption module (420) and an audit logging system (430) providing access control and audit logging in respect of institutional information.

(57) The invention relates to a digital attendance management system for meetings and multi dayactivities. It supports multitenancy architecture by hosting multiple organizations on one platform,where an administrator creates and manages tenant accounts by adding an organization name andlogo and may deactivate a tenant. The system provides role-based user management with superadministrator, administrator, and normal user roles, including user account updates anddeactivation, and requires hosts to have accounts. Hosts create online or physical venues withgeofencing, set up single-day meetings and multi-day activities by entering titles, venues, dates,and times, and may update details. Attendees access a link, complete an attendance form, and confirm attendance via digital signature. The system stores records, generates downloadableregister , and offers reports and analytics with numerical summaries and visual charts

An authorized user has a master visit record and generatesa unique join-identifier, allowing multiple visitors to associate their profiles with a singleevent. The system captures visit details through pre-registration. A multi-tier approvalworkflow involving different administrative roles governs authorization, with optionalpayment integration for fee-based visits. Upon verification of visitor credentials, the systemissues time-bound access credentials such as QR codes or badges to enable controlled entry.Scanning updates a real-rime attendance register and monitors visitor movementthroughout the visit lifecycle. Automated notifications are sent to relevant stakeholders,while check-in and check-out processes are digitized. (57) The present invention relates to a standardized effervescent tablet composition cornpnsmgfenugreek extract and Indian asparagus extract for enhancing lactation. The formulationcombines herbal galactagogues with an effervescent drug delivery system to improve dissolution,absorption, bioavailability, patient compliance, and storage stability. The invention furtherprovides a manufacturing process suitable for industrial-scale production using conventional pharmaceutical equipment. The resulting formulation provides an effective, stable, and commercially scalable solution for supporting breast milk production in postpartum mothers experiencing lactation insufficiency

Protective insect meshesand filtration screens seal all air intake vents and exhaust vents to maintain complete hygiene.Operating on an active feedback loop powered autonomously by an integrated solar photovoltaicmodule, charge controller, and battery pack, a central ESP32 microcontroller unit dynamicallyregulates the internal microclimate. By continuously sampling DHT22 or DS 18B20 temperature probes and relative humidity probes, the microcontroller unit modulates convective fans and anadjustable ventilation damper to keep temperatures within a 40 to 70 Degrees Celsius to range.The system logs environmental data, transmits metrics wirelessly via Wi-Fi to a remote dashboard,and issues an automated SMS or mobile application alert to the farmer once crop-specific moisturethresholds are met.

The system features a hand-held housing integrated with an elongated environmental probe column carrying a multi-sensor array that includes a volumetric moisture sensor, a waterproof thermal probe, and an electrochemical pH sensor to measure multiple soil features simultaneously within a crop root zone. Internal electronics comprise an ESP32 microcontroller module and an edge-computing artificial intelligence processing engine that convert raw sensor data streams into cal ibrated digital soil metrics and execute an automated agronomical analysis engine. Targeted cultivation recommendations, including crop compatibility data and optimal fertilizer inputs, are instantly populated on a built-in OLED display screen. An integrated wireless telemetry link transmits the collected parameters to an external web or mobile platform for remote data logging and longitudinal tracking. Operating via an integrated solar charging panel and a rechargeable battery network, the scanner provides a self-sustained precision agriculture solution that delivers instant localized diagnostics, eliminates laboratory processing delays, and optimizes resource use in small-scale farming environments.

The system comprises an enclosed housing with an off-center waste input aperture that deposits items onto a pivotable, horizontal imaging pan. An ESP32-CAM module mounted within the housingcaptures high-resolution images of the item and applies neural network image recognition toclassify the waste into distinct categories, including plastic, paper, metal, and organic waste. A mechanical sorting and distribution assembly beneath the imaging pan includes a central collection fifnnel feeding a rotatable directional chute driven by a selector servo motor. Upon successful classification of a waste item, the selector servo motor rotates the directional chute to align with one of a plurality of matching compartment bins located in the base of the housing. Once aligned, a pan servo motor tilts the imaging pan, discharging the waste item through the funnel and down the directional chute into the correct storage compartment, preventing recyclable contamination and improving sorting efficiency Conventional sanitary pads are predominantly composed of non-biodegradablesynthetic materials, causing significant environmental burdens, while water hyacinth infestationdisrupts aquatic ecosystems. The innovation involves the extraction and modification oflignocellulosic fibers from water hyacinth biomass to develop a biodegradable absorbent core for sanitary pad applications. The material design leverages the intrinsic porosity, capillarity, andhydrophilic functional groups of cellulose to enhance fluid uptake and retention. The manufacturing process comprises sequential biomass harvesting, washing, drying, size reduction,eco-friendly chemical treatment, mechanical fluffing, pulping, and casting. The resultingstructured absorbent core is integrated with biodegradable top and barrier layers to form a complete sanitary pad. Material performance is evaluated through standardized absorbency testing via theCobb method, fluid retention capacity, and mechanical strength to ensure functional reliability.The resulting technology supports circular bioeconomy principles and offers a low-cost,biodegradable alternative that reduces plastic waste and promotes sustainable resourcemanagement.

The digestate slurry is dried on a drying bed and compressed in a pelletizer into fuel pellets. The fuel pellets, plastic waste, and biomass are co-pyrolyzed in a rotary reactor to generate char, syngas, and hot vapors. The hot vapors are passed through a catalytic regasification chamber containing a nickel-based catalyst to achieve >95% tar removal efficiency, and are subsequently condensed into bio-oil and greywater condensate. The greywater condensate is purified using multi-layer filtration units and solar stills to produce clean water. Waste thermal energy from thermochemical operations is recycled internally to drive drying and distillation processes

(72) SHADRACK MWAKIO MWAGANDI; ELIZABETH MWARA NGANGA and RICHARD NJATHI(74) (54) DECENTRALIZED SORTING AND COMPOSTING HUB FOR MIXED WASTE WITHOUT COLLECTION INFRASTRUCTURE(51) (57) This innovation is a decentralized waste transformation model that deliberately excludes primary waste collection. Instead, it receives pre-collected mixed waste from third-party collectors, then processes it entirely on one site. The system performs three core functions: manual or semi mechanized sorting of recyclables (plastics, paper, metals), aerobic composting of organic waste into fertilizer, and separate baling/sale of recyclables to industry off-takers. Unlike traditional waste management systems that compete for collection contracts or rely on tipping fees alone, this model generates dual revenue streams: sale of sorted recyclables and sale of organic fertilizer. Waste collectors pay a tipping fee to drop waste, making them both suppliers and customers. The innovation lies in its process architecture: no logistics burden, low capital entry, and a closed-loop value recovery system. It is designed for urban and peri-urban communities in low-to-middle-income countries where mixed waste is the norm and sorting infrastructure is missing. Applications include community waste hubs, farmer cooperative fertilizer supply, and SME waste processing businesses. The system is scalable by adding multiple drop-off points feeding one central transformation facility

The therapeutic compositions are prepared via a dichloromethane-methanol extraction and subsequent solvent partitioning into highly active ethyl acetate and hexane fractions. These standardized fractions exhibit potent, selective antiproliferative and anti-migratory activity against human prostate cancer cells while maintaining a high safety profile in non-cancerous cells. The technical effect is achieved through multi-pathway genetic modulation of critical prostate cancer-associated hub genes, including STAT3, CASP3, AKT1, BCL2, and TP53. The partitions are characterized by specific phytochemical architectures, prominently featuring γ-Sitosterol, flavonoids, and phenolics, which exhibit highly favorable drug-like properties. Furthermore, the partitions induce severe time- and dose-dependent morphological cellular disruption, inhibit wound closure, and suppress long-term colony formation. The invention provides a scalable, scientifically validated plant-derived therapeutic platform for targeted oncological interventions.

(51) (57) ABSTRACT

A distributed computing middleware apparatus, system, and computer-implemented method are disclosed for real-time transaction order routing, dynamic multi-node provider failover, and atomic settlement dispatch across heterogeneous communication networks. The apparatus includes an application programming interface gateway enforcing idempotency, a pricing and routing engine that ranks independent provider nodes and cryptographically seals quote payloads using hash digests, and an order orchestration engine implementing a distributed finite-state machine. Upon detecting an execution fault, liquidity exhaustion, or network timeout at a primary provider node, the state machine automatically executes an in-flight rerouting routine to a secondary ranked provider node whose instantaneous rate satisfies a client-pre-authorized tolerance band, preventing application session termination. A settlement and netting engine deterministically calculates multi-branch allocation vectors directly from the sealed quote payload, releasing netted local-currency amounts to the executing provider and dispatching target-currency settlement payloads with embedded regulatory identification data to a merchant beneficiary across external settlement rails.

11.0 TRADE MARKS

11.1 APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED FOR REGISTRATION

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the Registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to these classes may within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal, lodge a notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh.5,000/= (local opponent) or US$ 250 (foreign opponent). The period of lodging the notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he deems fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after a reasonable notice has been given in writing to the applicant for registration to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

11.5 SURRENDER

11.6 WITHDRAWAL

11.7 LICENCE

11.8 REMOVAL

Section 23 of the Trade Marks Act provides that registration of a trade mark in Kenya shall expire after a period of ten (10) years. The Act also provides that the proprietor of a registered trade mark may make an application for renewal of the trade mark upon completion of the prescribed Form TM 10 and payment of the prescribed renewal fee.

Rule 65 of the Trade Mark Rules provides that where no application for renewal of a registered trade mark is received upon expiry of the ten year period, the Registrar of Trade Marks shall notify the proprietor of this fact. Where no application for renewal of the registered trade mark is received within a period of sixty (60) days from the date of the notice for renewal by the Registrar, rule 67 of the Trade Mark Rules requires the Registrar of Trade Marks to publish this fact.

In accordance with the above provisions, the Registrar of Trade Marks hereby notifies the public that the proprietors of the trade marks indicated below were duly notified and that they did not file applications for renewal of their respective trade marks.

In accordance with the provisions of rules 67 and 68 of the Trade Mark Rules, the public is hereby notified as follows:

(a) Where the proprietor of a registered trade mark makes an application for renewal of a mark that has been published herein and pays the renewal fee together with the additional prescribed late renewal fee within thirty (30) days from the date of this publication, the trade mark shall be renewed and shall not be removed from the Register of Trade Marks;

(b) Where no application for renewal of a trade mark published herein is received within thirty (30) days from the date of this publication, the trade mark shall be forthwith removed from the Register of Trade Marks; and

Once the trade mark is removed from the Register of Trade Marks, the proprietor may thereafter make an application for renewal of the mark upon payment of the prescribed renewal fee together with the additional prescribed restoration fee. The trade mark shall then be restored to the Register of Trade Marks upon the Registrar of Trade Marks being satisfied that it is just to do so and upon imposing such conditions as the Registrar may deem fit.

11.9 MADRID APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED FOR REGISTRATION

The following are the marks whose international registration has been notified to Kenya as a designated contracting Party by the International Bureau, World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) and which are governed by the Madrid Agreement and the Madrid Protocol. The prescribed period of twelve (12) months and eighteen months (18) respectively for refusal of the marks commences from the notification date indicated herein for each mark.

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the marks may, in accordance with the provisions of rule 11(1) of the Trade Marks (International Registration) Rules 2003, file a notice of opposition within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh 5,000/= (Kenyan residents) or US$ 250 (non residents).

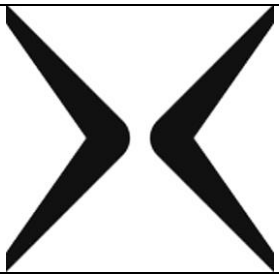

The period of filing the notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar of Trade Marks as prescribed in the Trade Mark Rules. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar before the expiry of the sixty (60) day statutory period.

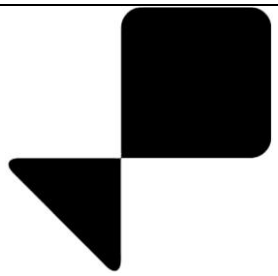

All the details of the marks advertised herein are available on WIPO's website www.wipo.int/romarin

3. Patent Cooperation Treaty

The Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is an international patent protection treaty consisting of over 140 member states. PCT is administered by the World Intellectual Property Organization in Geneva Switzerland. PCT makes it possible for an applicant to seek patent protection for an invention simultaneously in any of the selected member states by filing one application. PCT is a filing system and does not grant patents on behalf of the member states. Applications must enter national phase in the selected member states. In the national phase, the applicant is required to pay the prescribed national fees in the said member states. Further, in some member states, a foreign applicant is required to have a resident agent. The PCT fees as of 1st May 2011 are as follows:

| Type of fee | Fee | | Fee waivers |
